AMERICANS HOLD FIRM ALONG MARNE FRONT

STIFF FRENCH RESISTANCE IN NOYON AND MONTDIDIER SECTOR SLOWS DOWN FOURTH PHASE OF OFFENSIVE

MARINE POSITIONS ARE SHELLED

By Fred S. Ferguson

With The American Army In France, June 10.—While the fourth phase of the German offensive was breaking out between Noyon and Montdidier the Americans continued to hold firm on the Marne front. In addition to beating off two enemy attacks at Bouresches (5 miles west of Chateau-Thierry) an assault against Hill 204 was repulsed. They advanced and occupied the front west of Vaux (2 miles west of Chateau-Thierry) which was still occupied by the Germans. The Boche continued to shell Belleau Wood (5 miles west of Chateau-Thierry) but the Marines were still holding that place.

Paris, June 10.—The new German drive between Noyon and Montdidier slowed down before the French resistance yesterday evening and last night, the French official communique indicated today. Gains of over a mile made by the enemy in the center of the Allied left wing were announced. Simultaneously American and French troops advanced again northwest of Chateau Thierry, taking 250 prisoners and 30 machine guns. French troops carrying out detailed operations at Houtebraye took 150 prisoners, the statement said. Between the Ourcq and the Marne German attacks were repulsed east of Vinly (9 miles west and north of Chateau Thierry). On the left wing several violent attacks were broken up by French fire. Courcelles-Epayelles was taken and retaken several times and finally held by the French. The French attacked south and east of Ville (3 miles southwest of Noyon) taking 500 prisoners. In the center huge German forces made slight progress south of Builly (8 miles southeast of Montdidier). Ressons-Sur-Matz Wood (a mile and a half southeast of Builly) was taken.

London, June 10.—A hostile attack in Aneluy Wood last evening was repulsed, General Haig reported today. "We conducted a successful raid northwest of Bethune yesterday.

BOLSHEVIKI LOSING HOLD IN RUSSIA; ALLIES HOPE FOR IMPROVED SITUATION

Editor's Note: Joseph Shaplen, United Press staff correspondent in Russia has penetrated the warring army and sends the following story from Stockholm. It is the first story of conditions in Russia received in America in many weeks. Shaplen was caught in Petrograd when the counter revolution broke out.

By Joseph Shaplen

Stockholm, June 10.—The counter revolutionary movement in Russia is growing. The Bolsheviki are living their last days. Unless the present regime is overthrown by the combined efforts of the other revolutionary democratic parties there will be a counter revolution of the monarchial supporters in Moscow and Petrograd similar to those which triumphed in Ukrania, Finland and the Don region. In a similar way the provinces of the Balkan region have been occupied and the provinces of Khkoff and Minsk are under the banner of Austro - German imperialism. Russia is surrounded by imperialism on the north, west and south. The Turks are again advancing in Caucausia aiming to drive at Kieff with the Germans who are advancing from the north. With matchless cunning, through friendly notes through German Ambassador Mirbach, Germany is gradually approaching the heart of Russia in order to pierce it at the desirable moment. Last week in Moscow a plot was discovered in which 100 reactionists were planning to start a counter revolution with German bayonets. The German command, of course, is not officially taking part in these plans but is ready to appear as the protector for the new reactionary regime at the proper moment. It is still impossible to foretell the immediate developments but it is certain the brief respite is nearing its end, however much the Bolsheviki seeks to lengthen it. The Bolsheviki say themselves that they are already a corpse but there is no one to bury it. The proletariat is leaving the Bolsheviki en masse. The factory workers in Petrograd are organizing, and declare themselves for a reunited democracy, abrogation of the Brest-Litovsk treaty and formation of a Socialistic Russia in order to industrially inaugurate a Socialistic reform and then a civil war. The forces of the Soviet are too weak to effect the situation but the proletariat and peasants are deserting the Bolsheviki finally bringing to a determined conclusion the Brest-Litovsk treaty. It is as clear as daylight that they will be unable to organize against the foreign and internal forces of Russia. The Bolsheviki are fighting the Right and the Mensheviki, knowing the peasants are flocking to the latter. The people of Petrograd and Moscow are starving, getting only 1-8 of a pound of bread a day. Soon, however, something will burst. The Bolsheviki are endeavoring to support a republic before a counter revolution restores the monarchy.

SWOOPE WASN'T QUITE SO LUCKY

We were in error a small matter of about two thousand dollars in our report of the expenditures of William I. Swoope at the recent primary election. Instead of Bill's sensational battle for the Congressional nomination costing him $624 as we stated that was the total spent in his one county and his expenses for the four counties reached $2661.

BAND REHEARSAL

The first rehearsal of the Clearfield Fire Department Band will be held in the Fireman's Hall in the borough building on Market street this evening at 8 o'clock. It is earnestly desired that all members be present promptly at that hour.

AUTOIST BADLY HURT

Amos Passmore, who lives just above Hyde City was painfully injured in an auto wreck which occurred on the Grampian road, near Sidney Smiths' farm Sunday evening.

Passmore was driving a Ford car, when an automobile said to have been driven by a Mr. Wylie, of Hyde, in attempting to pass him sideswiped his car and overturned it on him. He was horribly cut about the head and face and also received severe cuts and bruises about the body.

The driver of the car which caused the wreck never stopped and only the prompt arrival of other motorists saved the young man from bleeding to death.

The injured man was taken to his home after having his wounds attended to by Dr. Ake of Curwensville.

PLANNING BIG CELEBRATION FOR JULY 4

Different Nationalities Making Up Our Population Will Be Asked To Participate

FAIR GROUNDS TO BE USED

The Clearfield Fire Department is arranging for a celebration of the Fourth of July along the lines suggested by President Wilson in a recent proclamation.

The President suggests, at the request of numerous individuals and organizations, that the naturalized citizens of this country take a special interest in the celebration of the nation's birthday this year. In accordance therewith in every section where there is a large foreign born population great preparations are being made to have a fitting patriotic demonstration in Clearfield on this occasion.

To this end a meeting will be held in the borough building Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose to get in touch with all the different nationalities and so far as possible make this a county demonstration. The Clearfield Driving park is peculiarly well fitted for such a gathering and an immense crowd can be accommodated therein.

The celebration will be purely patriotic, with addresses by speakers of state wide reputation representing the different nationalities making up the population of our country and music and other light forms of amusement fitting on such an occasion.

This is a matter which concerns every American citizen, naturalized or native born and the firemen should have the support of everybody in their efforts to properly carry out the provisions of the President's proclamation.

DETROIT TO TURN OUT FIFTY PLANES PER DAY SOON

John W. Staley, Vice President of the People's State Bank, Detroit, and President of the Association of Reserve City Bankers, told delegates to the sixth annual convention of that body at the Hotel Astor yesterday afternoon that within four months plants in Detroit alone would be turning out fifty battle airplanes a day.

"I can say to you now," said Mr. Staley, "that in spite of the greatest difficulties confronting the industrial world the plants of Lincoln Motor Company, the Packard Motor Car Company, the Ford Motor Company and the Cadillac Motor Company will deliver to the Government 10,000 Liberty Motors on contract time, that is, before Sept 1, 1918.

HELVETIA CASE IS HELD OVER

Today was the day fixed for the hearing in the Helvetia election case. This is the case in which William I. Swoope, G. A. Stewart and George Underwood asked the Court to throw out the vote of the precinct because of the unlawful moving of the regular polling place from the advertised election house to the hall of L. V. Leis, located about half a mile distant.

When the petition was filed Judge Bell named June 10th at 9 o'clock as the time for the hearing. The case was called at 10:30 this morning. Attorney James A. Gleason and ex-Judge John W. Reed represented Messrs Evan J. Jones, of Bradford, Republican Congressional nominee, John P. Rogers, Democratic legislative nominee and H. H. Sweeney, Republican county chairman elect.

When Judge Bell called the case Attorney Gleason arose and read the answer to the petition filed. In the answer the respondents denied any fraud or error; that the election was held in the Lynn hotel; and said the change was legally and properly made because of the filthy, offensive and unsanitary condition of the regular election house, claiming that the move was made on the advice or word of mouth order of two of the County Commissioners the day previous to the primary. Also that they had a man go over the precinct and personally notify each voter of the change and closed by stating that, as no error or fraud in the court was alleged the court had no jurisdiction in the matter, Judge Bell also contended that the petition was too late and action should have been taken before the count was had and the results certified.

Attorneys R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville and A. M. Liveright, of Clearfield represented the petitioners and Mr. Swoope presented an amendment to the original petition specifying that they were in error as to where the election had been held and asked that Lynn's hotel be stricken out and Leis Hall substituted. This was agreed to and following instruction of Judge Bell a "short rule" to take testimony was asked for and granted and testimony on behalf of the petitioners was ordered taken and the argument will be heard by the court Saturday next.

A large number of witnesses were present from Helvetia and the hearing of the testimony took up the major portion of the afternoon. The respondents will take their testimony some time between this and Saturday.

Attorney Gleason also stated that a condition similar to that at Helvetia existed in Centre county, where the regular election house was located in a school building, that when the election board went to hold the election they found the school in session and changed to another building. In this district Mr. Swoope had a majority of 23 votes and if both precincts should be thrown out it would still leave Mr. Jones the winner by four votes.

This however would not interfere with the other candidates affected.

THE MARINES

By James J. Montague

They have mostly hunted trouble on the edges of the sea
Where the natives got to milling and machetes swung too free,
Where some dusky gloom in Haiti pulled a massacre for spite,
Or a bolo flashed in Jolo as the signal for a fight.
But whatever was the trouble, be it large or be it small,
When our Leathernecks were landed—that was all!

Through the seven seas they've travlled, getting practice where they could,
Doing desultory fighting, and forever making good.
Always finding odds against them, never making any fuss,
But particularly thorough about cleaning up the muss.
And whenever they had finished any work they had to do
It was noticed that the enemy was through!

They have come from every quarter of the wide-spread U. S. A.,
Joining on in squads and bunches when the war cloud swung our way.
They've rehearsed for future battles while the cruiser shaped her course
Toward the jungles that gave shelter to the trouble-making force.
They have learned their drill and tactics while they rocked upon the deep,
And they must have studied scrapping in their sleep.

Now they're busy chasing boches and proceeding just the same
As they used to in the islands where they played the small-time game.
Every man against a dozen, every dozen on the hop,
Filled with terror at the soldiers that have never learned to stop.
Every boche in quite a hurry to depart to other scenes
Where their hides are out of reach of the Marines.

Now that Taft and Roosevel have had a half hour of intimate conversation, who can say that some day we may not see President Wilson and Senator Chamberlain talking together once more?

A delver into the past reminds us that it may be timely just now, in view of the President's opposition to an investigation of the aircraft scandal by the Senate, to print the following from the Democratic national platform of 1904: "It (the Republican party and administration) withdrew from Congress their customary duties of investigation which heretofore made the representatives of the people and States the terror of evildoers."

In drafting the new revenue bill we hope there will be no attempt to cling to the superstitious and superflous hope that "war profits" can be made to pay for the war. It is not possible to make one hand wash the other financially in this way. Nor will it be possible to have the banks and big fiscal institutions underwrite the cost of the war. The war will have to be paid for as it will have to be fought, by the country at large, by everyone subjecting himself to taxation and to other contributions to the utmost.

The treaty of alliance which Germany has exacted from Kaiser Karl sets the nominal term of fifteen years for its duration. But in reality the pact is in perpetuity. After fifteen year of subjection to Berlin influence such as this agreement demands, Austria will be in no condition to resist the further extension of her enslavement. It may be—and probably will be—a greatly diminished Austria which will be found fifteen years hence; becaue it is inconceivable that the final terms of peace will leave the Hapsburgs rulers over any portion of Poland or of South Slavdom or perhaps even over Hungary. In such case, Vienna will be still the more powerless to resist. Austria's fate seems fixed, whatever else may be the outcome of the war.

MINERS AND OPERATORS TO GET MORE COAL TO MARKET

and place of meeting has been definitely arranged.

If the campaign is to be a success everybody must cooperate.

To increase the production of coal in Central Pennsylvania is a task worthy of the best effort of every miner and operator. The greatness of the task assigned to the mining industry is expressed by Mr. Morrow, when he says: "To give you some measure of the responsibility that rests today on the coal producers of the United States, let me say that you are called upon to produce more coal this year than all the mines of all the rest of the world combined."

In the year 1917 the total production of bituminous coal in the United States was approximately 551,000,000 tons, which was the record year. Most careful estimates have been made, based upon accurate records of consumption for the year 1917, and by adding to these figures the estimated additional requirements for the year 1918, it is determined that the minimum requirements would be 635,000,000 tons, but changes in the war program have been so rapid that safety requires no estimate below 650,000,000 tons.

Mr. Calloway says: "There is every possible reason to hope that our production this year will be 590,000,000 tons." Central Pennsylvania must do her share. Every miner and operator must do a little more than he has been doing and instead of producing 1,000,000 tons per week in this region, we should produce 1,500,000 tons.

President Wilson, in his address said: "To the miner let me say that he stands where the farmer does: The work of the world waits on him. If he slackens or fails armies and statesmen are helpless. He also is enlisted in the great service army."

The foregoing easily demonstrates the necessity for us doing everything in our power to produce more coal. The Executive Committee of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association, at their meeting held in Philadelphia on May 28th, instructed the officers of the Association to formulate a plan of action that would increase, and maintain the maximum production of coal in Central Pennsylvania. After careful consideration, the officers of the Association hereby submit to the operators a plan which they believe should be uniformly adopted throughout the district.

First, a series of mass meetings should be held during the two weeks beginning June 17th, ending Saturday June 29th, to explain to the miners and their families and all persons connected with the mining industry, the imperative necessity for a greater production of coal. The Committee to arrange this meeting in each town is hereby designated to be the mine Superintendent, or Superintendents, and officers of the local union of the United Mine Workers of America. Speakers shall be assigned to different meetings upon request to the District Speaker's Bureau.

This Committee shall secure the services of speakers and assign them to the different meetings upon request from the local committee.

Second, following the mass meetings the men employed at each colliery shall select a committee from among their number whose duty it shall be to investigate all cases of inefficiency or idleness and take recommendations to the operators or miners, as to means and methods that should be employed to increase production and to formulate such rules at each colliery that in their judgment are best suited for this purpose.

Third, all persons interested should assist the colliery committee in having every man sign the following pledge:

I pledge allegiance to my Flag, and to the Republic for which it stands. One nation indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all, and I do sincerely believe in the proposition that coal will win the war, and therefore promise to do everything in my power to improve and increase the production of coal by every means at my command, doing so in firm belief that in this way I will contribute to the success of my country in her struggle with the Imperial Government of Germany.

Every man who signs this pledge card should receive and wear on his working coat sleeve the National Service emblem we have adopted (this emblem to be a blue background with upraised arm and hammer in white to be sewed on the sleeve). Each colliery upon getting 100 per cent. of the employes pledged shall be entitled to a national service flag of the same design as the emblem worn by the members, to fly at the colliery [illegible] emblems and flags to be furnished by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association.

WHAT OUR BOYS READ IN THEIR PAPER "THE STARS AND STRIPES"

ON BEING A BUCK

We quote the following from a "Doughboys Dictionary" as published in Judge, of New York:

"Buck Private—The poor devil who does all the work and gets the least pay."

Oh, dear! Judge, like so many of our well-meaning contemporaries back home, has got it all wrong.

"The poor devil!" Say not so. The buck private is the luckiest guy in the army—the luckiest and the happiest. Everything is done for him, everything planned out for him, everything issuable is issued to him when it can be got every higher officer exists but to serve him and make his path easier and to take the worry and the fret and the planning off his shoulders. In fact, the army takes everything off his shoulders but his pack and his gun.

"Who does all the work!" Wrong again; the buck goes to bed at taps, and—unless he is on guard or K. P.—has nothing on his mind but his hair until reveille. The Loots, and the Skippers, and the Oakleaves and the Eagles and the Stars know no taps. Their name is certainly NOT Eva-I-don't care.

"And gets the least pay!" Yes, but what pay the buck does get, after all the deductions are made, is his. He isn't taxed $300 or so for a new equipment when the joins; he doesn't have to buy a blooming Sam Browne belt or spurs or boots or insignia.

No, Sister Judge yur'e wrong. The buck is the best off of the whole lot. He's got the only sure and steady job in the whole Army. He's the only man who can't be busted.

ODE TO A BATH TUB

In days gone by in civil life
We all were bright and gay,
And all of us could get a bath
At any time of day.

But now we're in the trenches
And the weather's pretty cold,
And water for a real good wash
Is worth it's weight in gold

Not only are we dirty
And don't undress at night,
But we get our flesh to bleeding
When we scratch where cootics bite.

If we find a spot that's sunny
In this and of rainy France,
The first things that we boys remove
Are blouses, shirts and pants.

And when the other things are off
We rub ourselves with soap,
And put the first things on again,
And hope and hope and hope.

We hope we wont' be chilly,
That the itch will stop as well,
And that the Kaiser and his gang
Will all be shot to hell.

For we want this war to finish
So we'll have the aftermath,
Of spending Sunday mornings
In a good old U. S. bath.

P. G. Whittier
Battery E.—F.A.

Little Goody New-Shoes will soon be shot into your company from the replacement division. Little Goody New-Shoes are quite some shoes, too. They're guaranteed, as far as shoes which have to stand what shoes do stand over here can be guaranteed, not to do what the Giants once did—crack under the strain.

They're going to have three soles, which, it is expected, will give them a good nine lives. But—and here is the essential difference—the ground floor and second floor soles are going to be nailed together, not sewn. It has been proved beyond a doubt this past winter—you, of course, have helped a lot in the proving—that thread rots in water and mud and slush and everything, causing the soles which are joined by it to be as wobbly and separatable as Bolsheviks. Therefore, no more thread for those two necessary foundation soles. They will be united by nails.

Leaves in the A. E. F. have been suspended indefinitely. The reason is, of course, the "present emergency," the term by which the war is known in official American state papers, but in this case narrowed down to apply to the German onslaught in the north.

There will be no exceptions to the order, according to an authoritative statement. Officers and men fare alike. Men now on leave, however, will not be compelled to return to their units until their permission period is up.

Five to two, or six to two—perhaps even nine to two, according to how you count, is the score registered in less than a month by American flyers against the German airmen in the Lorraine country.

The more recent of our two losses in the one month's record is the loss of Captain James Norman Hall, who has been missing since last Monday evening, when he and two other American flyers encountered four German machines in the clouds some ten miles within the enemy's lines.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's Day was observed Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church and took the place of the regular morning church service.

The entire Sabbath school marched into the church while Miss Alice Smith at the organ and Miss Mar-Maret Wrigey at the piano payed "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The exercises were in charge of the Primary department and the little tots sang their songs and recited their recitations in a most pleasing and appraising manner. The larger girls and boys carried out their flag drills in a creditable way.

A number of babies and children received the rites of baptism. All the children of seven years of age who had been baptized in the church were presented with handsome bibles as is the usual custom.

The church was beautifully decorated with spruce, laurel, peonies and American flags.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath every morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisons before [illegible] is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ash, so the food and drink taken each day [illegible] in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated from toxins and poisons which are [illegible] sucked into the blood through the very [illegible] which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy blood in your cheeks, your skin will become clearer and clearer you are told to drink every morning [illegible] a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, [illegible] and bowels, thus [illegible] the entire alimentary tract before [illegible] into the blood.

Girls and women with sallow skins liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste in many breath others who are bothered with [illegible] biliousness spells acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs.

We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for [illegible]

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at hoe though is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightfully dark, glossy soft and luxurant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

do you continue to risk your all without adequate fire protection when we will gladly explain any feature that you may not understand?

Bert Ammerman and family and Mrs. Sarah Ammerman, took a car ride to Templeton, Armstrong county, Sunday for a brief visit with a brother and son, "Peck" Ammerman and wife.

Lew Lewis received a letter the other day notifying him of the death of a cousin, David Johns, who was killed in action while fighting with the ritish army in Palestine, his death occuring November 6th.

Next Thursday evening the K. of P. lodge here will confer the Knights degree on several candidates, beness which will be of vast imporsides transacting a lot of other bustance to the members of this society.

Creighton Clark, who has been absent from Curwensville for several years, arrived in town Saturday. He expects to reside here permanently now, and contemplates opening several smal coal mines owned by him and located within half a mile of town.

A patriotic and memorial service, under the auspices of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges, will be held on Tuesday evening, June 11th. All adults are cordially invited to be present. A fine program has been prepared and will be presented and good speakers will be present to address the people.

Fifty dollars of the profits from the sale of tickets will be donated to the Red Cross. The admission price has been changed from 75 to 50 cents for reserved seats, while the general admission has reduced to 35 cents.

Last week one evening the Loyal Moose lodge of this place initiated a class of over fifty candidates. The membership of this organization now numbers something over four hundred. The order owns its own home, holds a nmuber of liberty bonds, and always keeps a nice sum in the treasury to meet all claims for benefits or any other emergency which may arise.

Word was received here yesterday announcing the death in Philadelphia of a two years old child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walters, former residents in this section. The body will be brought to Curwensville and buried in Oak Hill cemetery. The funeral will probably be held on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Saturday and Saturday evening was a busy time in Curwensville. Pay day at a half dozen different industries distributed about $60,000 among the men, who in turn paid out a large portion of what they received to the merchant, druggist, doctor, etc. thereby making everybody happy by being the recipient of a portion of something which is needful in "keeping the flour barrel full."

William Hallman, aged 54 years, was instantly killed in the nard clay minese of the Harbison-Walker company, located in Bloom township, last Friday afternoon. According to report he was about to shoot a hole and had cut a stick of dynamite into two pieces, capping and lighting the fuse of both. He stuck one piece under his left arm pit while he placed the other piece in a hole. By some means the piece under his arm exploded killing him instantly. His remains were brought to the Smith undertak- [illegible] where the body was prepared for burial. He is survived by a wife and several children, one son being in the army and now in France. His funeral was held Sunday afternoon. Interment in Chestnut grove cemetery.

Saturday two men hailing from Lock Haven met with an auto accident at the railroad crossing down on the state road which landed one in the hospital, while the other man was cut and severely bruised all over the body. A big birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Len Neeper, about one mile above town, last Friday evening the occasion being the celebrating of the 21st birthday of their son, Oscar. About seventy guests were present who spent the evening in enjoyments and before departing for their homes partook of a feast of which all did ample justice.

Mrs. Tenon and child were hit by an automobile at the corner of Walnut and State streets Saturday afternoon. The lady was knocked down and had her dress bodly torn and one foot and limb severly bruised. The child was also slightly injured. It seems as though the lady and child were about to cross the return when the auto came up the street and wanted to go up the return. The driver seeing the danger to the woman and child shifted his machine to keep from striking them and ran up on the sidewalk. The people mistaking the driver's intention jumped backward just far enough for the car to strike the two knocking them down. From what can be gleaned from eye witnesses no blame can be attached to the driver as he did his best to avoid any accident, but agreed to pay the doctor bill and other expenses incurred by the accident.

The tailoring establishent of Vincent Di Palmi will be closed until Wednesday morning an occount of the death of Mrs. DiPalmi's mother at Frenchville, Pa.

FIRST AMERICAN TO BRING DOWN GERMAN PLANE

This photograph shows Lieutenant Allan J. Winslow of Chicago standing beside the airplnae in which he brought down the first German plane credited to an American flyer. Uncle Sam's planes bear as their insignia a hat within a ring as shown on the body of the plane.

TOBACCO RATIONS WILL CHEER HEARTS OF OUR MEN IN FRANCE

Paris, May 31.—The American soldier has received no more welcome news since his arrival in France than the recent announcement that henceforth the War Department will issue tobacco rations. The scarcity of tobacco, particularly the kind to which he has been accustomed, has been a real hardship for the American soldier ever since he arrived on this side, and of late the situation has become so critical as to demand attention from the highest authorities.

An American soldier arriving from the fornt, mud-spattered, and swaying with his impediments, was waylaid on a narrow street one night recently by a dozen American soldiers, stationed in Paris. It was a terribly unfair attack, for, although the newcomer carried a rifle and a bayonet, and his assailants had only their strong two fists, they rushed him so fast he could make no resistance.

Some French soldiers coming up the street heard the noise of battle and ran to the rescue. But instead of helping the unfortunate man, they joined the enemy raiders.

The soldier on leave, not being able to get even his hands free and surrounded, finally found his voice.

"Say, what the devil do you fellows want?" he bellowed.

"Smokes — cigs — tobacco — seegarett!" The last from the Frenchmen.

"Buy—but—but——"

"Well, you're coming from the front ain't ye? And that's the only place in France they've got any left!" the raiders exclaimed.

"What? Cigarette at the front? They're kidding you," the newcomer replied. "Why all we've got is this Boche stuff!"

And he rummaged himself, pulled out a tin box, and opened it.

In a second the twenty cigarettes it contained were gone, and so was the mob. With evident relief, the soldier threw his tin box on the sidewalk with a hearty bang, and kept on his way to the Y. M. C. A. hotel, where hot water and linen awaited him.

The tin box which he had thrown away so contemptuously has a story—two stories in fact. On it was inscribed the brand of Turkish tobacco, and the fact that it was made by the Government in Sarajevo, Bosnia, the Austro-Hungarian town where Princip fired the shot which killed Francis Joseph's heir, and gave Germany an excuse for war. Boche tobacco it was, truly, as the soldier had said. The first story concerns a big raid which the French made on the Salonika fornt, and which gave them guns, prisoners, and stores. In the latter were several million cigarettes. These the French Government gave to its troops when the regular supply was exhausted.

The second story concerns the shortage in tobacco for the American army, a shortage so acute that General Pershing's quartermasters had to ask the French for help, and part of this help consisted of the Boche tobacco. But this lasted only a few days, and as all France is short of cigarettes, matches, papers and tobacco— everything but the habit, in fact —the situation was anything but promising until the War Department at Washington announced measures for relief.

Of the many thousands of shops in Paris, all but one or two show a sign announcing they have no cigarettes for sale. The two exceptions get a few British cartons every day, and about once a week they offer a little French tobacco. Every day there is a long line-up in front of these shops, regulated by the police, and men and women wait an hour to get an ounce of tobacco or twenty cigarettes.

Despite the generous gifts of thousands of Americans at home, the efforts of associations, newspapers, and the quartermaster's department of the army, the American boys in France have really suffered because they could not get tobacco. The blame cannot be laid on any individual or organization, but rather on all the unusual conditions caused by the long war.

PENNSYLVANIA WOMAN PATRIOTIC

Lancaster, Pa., June 10.—"Either join the Marines or leave home!" This was the ultimatum issued to Frank A. Laudenberger, a silk weaver, of Marietta, Pa., by his patriotic wife.

When Laudenberger appeared before Sergeant Jim Gandee of the local recruiting station recently he was told that he would have to obtain his wife's consent before he could be accepted.

"Consent?" he asked laughingly. "Why she told me that any man who called himself a man would be fighting for his country and that I would have to enlist in the Marines or leave home. Guess that's enough consent, isn't it?"

Laudenberger was accepted immediately and his spartan wife was on hand at the depot to see that he surely got on his way to help make the world "safe for democracy".

MRS. KATE ROUGEUX

Mrs. Kate Rougeux, wife of August Rougeoux, one of Covington township's best known citizens, died at the family home in "Germany," about two miles from Frenchville, on Saturday evening, June 8, 1918, aged about 6[illegible] years.

The deceased had been a sufferer from heart trouble for several years and was in a precarious condition during a major portion of the past few months.

Mrs. Rougeux was the daughter of the late Serdon N. and Nancy Coudriet and lived her entier life in the community where she passed away. She was married to August Rougeux in 1811 and to this union was born thirteen children all of whom with her husband, survive.

Mrs. Rougeux was the ideal loving wife and mother, whose every thought was for her home and loved ones, and her death, the first break in the large family circle, is a heart-crushing blow. She was a life-long, devoted member of the Catholic church and passed away fortified with all the rites of that church.

The immediate family surviving her are her husband, August Rougeux and the following sons and daughters: Basil and Edgar of Covington township; Clement, of Boardman Peter, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Lawrence N. and Maurice, of the U. S. Army; Mrs. Edward P. Shade and Mrs. John Daley, of Clearfield; Mrs. C. A. Fontenoy, of Karthaus; Mrs. Vincent Di Palmi, of Curwensville Misses Nannie and Sadie, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Lulu, at home. Her funeral will be held at the Frenchville Catholic church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. A requiem high mass will be celebrated by Rev. Father M. J. Renehan. Interment in the cemetery connected with the church.

PINEAPPLE PRESERVES

Twelve large, ripe pineapples will make about thirty half-pint glasses of preserves. Remove the eyes, then pare the pineapples carefully and by means of a coarse grater, shred the fruit, saving the juice.

Take two large cupfuls of the grated pineapple and one scant cupful of water. To this add two-and-a-half cupfuls of sugar.

Turn into a preserving kettle and place it over the fire. Remove the scum frequently from it while boiling Boil until it looks clear and thickens when a little istested on a cool saucer.

When done, pour it into a basin and allow it to cool. Divide into sterilized glasses and seal with melted Parowax.

PRETTY MOTOR DRIVER TRAINING FOR WAR

HOW AUTOMOBILE MAY BE LEARNED

Initial Lesson in Handling Machine Should Be How to Stop Quickly.

STARTING NOT SO IMPORTANT

Make Numerous Attempts to Bring Car to Standstill Until Confidence Is Gained—Measure Distance Accurately.

Running an automobile through traffic is like swimming in deep water. Don't do it until you are so sure of yourself that all danger of panic has gone by. And always expect the unexpected. Leave your family or friends at home on those first few rides.

Initial Lesson.

As your initial lesson, after you have learned the names, and above all the potentialities of the various levers, learn how to stop. Of course, as a preliminary, you must start, but that can be at your leisure. Make a dozen —or even a hundred attempts to bring the car to a standstill until you have gained confidence. Then adventure along some quiet, unobstructed road.

After you have received some instruction about the general mechanism of the car, practice stopping suddenly before reaching imaginary dangers along the road. Don't wait for this lesson until a child, a chicken, an absent-minded saunterer or some other irresponsible live thing sends your brand-new knowledge helter-skelter.

Measuring Distance.

Measuring distance accurately is the most important feature of driving. Draw two lines across the road fifty feet apart. Then, going at the rate of twenty miles an hour, apply the brake and see how long it takes you to stop the car. When you discover how much over the fifty-foot line your automobile goes, you realize the necessity for the driver's first rule—caution.

This trial also teaches you what speed is safe in approaching railroad crossings and intersecting streets, and how near you can go to traffic before applying your brake.—Popular Science Monthly.

TO FIX BATTERY CONNECTION

Stripped End of Wire Should Be Wound Around Binding Post in Clockwise Direction.

In making an ordinary connection to a battery terminal, the stripped end of the wire should be wound around the binding post in a clockwise direction. When the screw is tightened, it will be turned to the right and with the wire wound in the same direction, there is a tendency for it to wrap all the tighter around the post. When the wire is wrapped the other way around, it tends to unwrap when the screw is tightened.

Oil Brakes Sparingly.

It has been well said that there is one set of bearing surfaces on a car which should never be oiled—the brakes. This is not strictly true, as a squeaking brake must be oiled, but with caution. Use castor oil in moderation until the squeak is stopped.

NEW HEADLIGHT FOR AUTOS

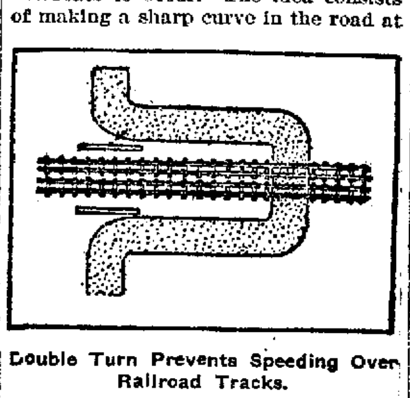

Connected With Front Axle and Always Points in Same Direction With Front Wheels.

The latest development in automobile lighting is a headlight which always points in the right direction. Every motorist has known the annoyance which arises in turning corners, when the front wheels are pointed in one direction and the headlights in another, and the country to left or right is lighted, while the road he wants to travel is dark. The new headlight is connected with the front axle in such a way that it turns with the front wheels instead of with the body of the car, and always points in the direction the wheels are pointed, which is, of course, the path that the car will travel.

SLOWING DOWN AT CROSSING

Unique Plan to Prevent Autoists Dashing Upon Tracks Already Occupied by Train.

Patent papers have been granted on a unique plan to prevent autoists dashing upon railroad tracks already occupied by a train. The plan might arouse the ire of the automobilist, but it would probably make it impossible for these accidents to occur. The idea consists of making a sharp curve in the road at a point just before the tracks would be reached under ordinary circumstances, so the chauffeur is compelled to slow up and make two turns before getting on the track. While performing this evolution it is thought that there would be ample opportunity for observing the approach of a train in either direction.

WATER AS CARBON REMOVER

Highly Recommended and Really Effective—Old Timer Describes Simple Method.

Water is a highly recommended and really effective carbon remover. It is the best, old-timers say. One man advises a simple method: "When your motor is running idle, speed it up until the air valve in the carburetor opens. Take a syringe, about the size of a hypodermic syringe, and inject water slowly into the carburetor. Do this four or five times, and you will see the carbon in huge chunks come out through the exhaust."

Spinning Wheels.

When the rear wheels are in a muddy spot, do not try to drive the car out by spinning them. The slower the wheels turn the better the chance of gripping the surface. If the car can be rocked by alternately engaging and disengaging the clutch it will be found that the pendulum action of the car will carry it out of almost any bad spot.

The time has just about come when all stocks of white wear at previous low costs have about been exhausted. HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by [illegible] the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. [illegible] and [illegible] fail to filter the waste and [illegible] the [illegible] sick. [illegible] rheumatism, headaches, [illegible] dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary [illegible] come from sluggish kidneys. [illegible] you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, [illegible] full of sediment, irregular of passage or [illegible] by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulae the kidneys so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which every one should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

AMERICANS HOLD FIRM ALONG MARNE FRONT

STIFF FRENCH RESISTANCE IN NOYON AND MONTDIDIER SECTOR SLOWS DOWN FOURTH PHASE OF OFFENSIVE

MARINE POSITIONS ARE SHELLED

By Fred S. Ferguson

With The American Army In France, June 10.—While the fourth phase of the German offensive was breaking out between Noyon and Montdidier the Americans continued to hold firm on the Marne front. In addition to beating off two enemy attacks at Bouresches (5 miles west of Chateau-Thierry) an assault against Hill 204 was repulsed. They advanced and occupied the front west of Vaux (2 miles west of Chateau-Thierry) which was still occupied by the Germans. The Boche continued to shell Belleau Wood (5 miles west of Chateau-Thierry) but the Marines were still holding that place.

Paris, June 10.—The new German drive between Noyon and Montdidier slowed down before the French resistance yesterday evening and last night, the French official communique indicated today. Gains of over a mile made by the enemy in the center of the Allied left wing were announced. Simultaneously American and French troops advanced again northwest of Chateau Thierry, taking 250 prisoners and 30 machine guns. French troops carrying out detailed operations at Houtebraye took 150 prisoners, the statement said. Between the Ourcq and the Marne German attacks were repulsed east of Vinly (9 miles west and north of Chateau Thierry). On the left wing several violent attacks were broken up by French fire. Courcelles-Epayelles was taken and retaken several times and finally held by the French. The French attacked south and east of Ville (3 miles southwest of Noyon) taking 500 prisoners. In the center huge German forces made slight progress south of Builly (8 miles southeast of Montdidier). Ressons-Sur-Matz Wood (a mile and a half southeast of Builly) was taken.

London, June 10.—A hostile attack in Aneluy Wood last evening was repulsed, General Haig reported today. "We conducted a successful raid northwest of Bethune yesterday.

BOLSHEVIKI LOSING HOLD IN RUSSIA; ALLIES HOPE FOR IMPROVED SITUATION

Editor's Note: Joseph Shaplen, United Press staff correspondent in Russia has penetrated the warring army and sends the following story from Stockholm. It is the first story of conditions in Russia received in America in many weeks. Shaplen was caught in Petrograd when the counter revolution broke out.

By Joseph Shaplen

Stockholm, June 10.—The counter revolutionary movement in Russia is growing. The Bolsheviki are living their last days. Unless the present regime is overthrown by the combined efforts of the other revolutionary democratic parties there will be a counter revolution of the monarchial supporters in Moscow and Petrograd similar to those which triumphed in Ukrania, Finland and the Don region. In a similar way the provinces of the Balkan region have been occupied and the provinces of Khkoff and Minsk are under the banner of Austro - German imperialism. Russia is surrounded by imperialism on the north, west and south. The Turks are again advancing in Caucausia aiming to drive at Kieff with the Germans who are advancing from the north. With matchless cunning, through friendly notes through German Ambassador Mirbach, Germany is gradually approaching the heart of Russia in order to pierce it at the desirable moment. Last week in Moscow a plot was discovered in which 100 reactionists were planning to start a counter revolution with German bayonets. The German command, of course, is not officially taking part in these plans but is ready to appear as the protector for the new reactionary regime at the proper moment. It is still impossible to foretell the immediate developments but it is certain the brief respite is nearing its end, however much the Bolheviki seeks to lengthen it. The Bolsheviki say themselves that they are already a corpse but there is no one to bury it. The proletariat is leaving the Bolsheviki en masse. The factory workers in Petrograd are organizing, and declare themselves for a reunited democracy, abrogation of the Brest-Litovsk treaty and formation of a Socialistic Russia in order to industrially inaugurate a Socialistic reform and then a civil war. The forces of the Soviet are too weak to effect the situation but the proletariat and peasants are deserting the Bolsheviki finally bringing to a determined conclusion the Brest-Litovsk treaty. It is as clear as daylight that they will be unable to organize against the foreign and internal forces of Russia. The Bolsheviki are fighting the Right and the Mensheviki, knowing the peasants are flocking to the latter. The people of Petrograd and Moscow are starving, getting only 1-8 of a pound of bread a day. Soon, however, something will burst. The Bolsheviki are endeavoring to support a republic before a counter revolution restores the monarchy.

Instead of B's sensational battle for the Congressional nomination costing him $624 as we stated that was the total spent in his one county and his expenses for the four counties reached $2661.

AUTOIST BADLY HURT

Amos Passmore, who lives just above Hyde City was painfully injured in an auto wreck which occurred on the Grampian road, near Sidney Smiths' farm Sunday evening.

Passmore was driving a Ford car, when an automobile said to have been driven by a Mr. Wylie, of Hyde, in attempting to pass him sideswiped his car and overturned it on him. He was horribly cut about the head and face and also received severe cuts and bruises about the body.

The driver of the car which caused the wreck never stopped and only the prompt arrival of other motorists saved the young man from bleeding to death.

The injured man was taken to his home after having his wounds attended to by Dr. Ake of Curwensville.

PLANNING BIG CELEBRATION FOR JULY 4

Different Nationalities Making Up Our Population Will Be Asked To Participate

FAIR GROUNDS TO BE USED

The Clearfield Fire Department is arranging for a celebration of the Fourth of July along the lines suggested by President Wilson in a recent proclamation.

The President suggests, at the request of numerous individuals and organizations, that the naturalized citizens of this country take a special interest in the celebration of the nation's birthday this year. In accordance therewith in every section where there is a large foreign born population great preparations are being made to have a fitting patriotic demonstration in Clearfield on this occasion.

To this end a meeting will be held in the borough building Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose to get in touch with all the different nationalities and so far as possible make this a county demonstration. The Clearfield Driving park is peculiarly well fitted for such a gathering and an immense crowd can be accommodated therein.

The celebration will be purely patriotic, with addresses by speakers of state wide reputation representing the different nationalities making up the population of our country and music and other light forms of amusement fitting on such an occasion.

This is a matter which concerns every American citizen, naturalized or native born and the firemen should have the support of everybody in their efforts to properly carry out the provisions of the President's proclamation.

DETROIT TO TURN OUT FIFTY PLANES PER DAY SOON

John W. Staley, Vice President of the People's State Bank, Detroit, and President of the Association of Reserve City Bankers, told delegates to the sixth annual convention of that body at the Hotel Astor yesterday afternoon that within four months plants in Detroit alone would be turning out fifty battle airplanes a day.

"I can say to you now," said Mr. Staley, "that in spite of the greatest difficulties confronting the industrial world the plants of Lincoln Motor Company, the Packard Motor Car Company, the Ford Motor Company and the Cadillac Motor Company will deliver to the Government 10,000 Liberty Motors on contract time, that is, before Sept 1, 1918.

Fifty Planes Daily Soon

"While there will be a delay in the delivery of the airplanes themselves, through a desire to perfect the design, I can say to you now that within four months Detroit will be shipping not less than fifty of the [illegible] battleplanes per day. I will also further that Detroit with her [illegible] production on a large scale will [illegible] far toward winning this war [illegible] one year from today she is bound to be looked upon as the airplane center of this country.

MINERS AND OPERATORS LAUNCH DRIVE TO GET MORE COAL TO MARKET

HELVETIA CASE IS HELD OVER

Today was the day fixed for the hearing in the Helvetia election case. This is the case in which William I. Swoope, G. A. Stewart and George Underwood asked the Court to throw out the vote of the precinct because of the unlawful moving of the regular polling place from the advertised election house to the hall of L. V. Leis, located about half a mile distant.

When the petition was filed Judge Bell named June 10th at 9 o'clock as the time for the hearing. The case was called at 10:30 this morning. Attorney James A. Gleason and ex-Judge John W. Reed represented Messrs Evan J. Jones, of Bradford, Republican Congressional nominee, John P. Rogers, Democratic legislative nominee and H. H. Sweeney, Republican county chairman elect.

When Judge Bell called the case Attorney Gleason arose and read the answer to the petition filed. In the answer the respondents denied any fraud or error; that the election was held in the Lynn hotel; and said the change was legally and properly made because of the filthy, offensive and unsanitary condition of the regular election house, claiming that the move was made on the advice or word of mouth order of two of the County Commissioners the day previous to the primary. Also that they had a man go over the precinct and personally notify each voter of the change and closed by stating that, as no error or fraud in the court was alleged the court had no jurisdiction in the matter, Judge Bell also contended that the petition was too late and action should have been taken before the count was had and the results certified.

Attorneys R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville and A. M. Liveright, of Clearfield represented the petitioners and Mr. Swoope presented an amendment to the original petition specifying that they were in error as to where the election had been held and asked that Lynn's hotel be stricken out and Leis Hall substituted. This was agreed to and following instruction of Judge Bell a "short rule" to take testimony was asked for and granted and testimony on behalf of the petitioners was ordered taken and the argument will be heard by the court Saturday next.

A large number of witnesses were present from Helvetia and the hearing of the testimony took up the major portion of the afternoon. The respondents will take their testimony some time between this and Saturday.

Attorney Gleason also stated that a condition similar to that at Helvetia existed in Centre county, where the regular election house was located in a school building, that when the election board went to hold the election they found the school in session and changed to another building. In this district Mr. Swoope had a majority of 23 votes and if both precincts should be thrown out it would still leave Mr. Jones the winner by four votes.

This however would not interfere with the other candidates affected.

THE MARINES

By James J. Montague

They have mostly hunted trouble on the edges of the sea
Where the natives got to milling and machetes swung too free,
Where some dusky gloom in Haiti pulled a massacre for spite,
Or a bolo flashed in Jolo as the signal for a fight.
But whatever was the trouble, be it large or be it small,
When our Leathernecks were landed—that was all!

Through the seven seas they've travlled, getting practice where they could,
Doing desultory fighting, and forever making good.
Always finding odds against them, never making any fuss,
But particularly thorough about cleaning up the muss.
And whenever they had finished any work they had to do
It was noticed that the enemy was through!

They have come from every quarter of the wide-spread U. S. A.,
Joining on in squads and bunches when the war cloud swung our way.
They've rehearsed for future battles while the cruiser shaped her course
Toward the jungles that gave shelter to the trouble-making force.
They have learned their drill and tactics while they rocked upon the deep,
And they must have studied scrapping in their sleep.

Now they're busy chasing boches and proceeding just the same
As they used to in the islands where they played the small-time game.
Every man against a dozen, every dozen on the hop,
Filled with terror at the soldiers that have never learned to stop.
Every boche in quite a hurry to depart to other scenes
Where their hides are out of reach of the Marines.

Now that Taft and Roosevel have had a half hour of intimate conversation, who can say that some day we may not see President Wilson and Senator Chamberlain talking together once more?

A delver into the past reminds us that it may be timely just now, in view of the President's opposition to an investigation of the aircraft scandal by the Senate, to print the following from the Democratic national platform of 1904: "It (the Republican party and administration) withdrew from Congress their customary duties of investigation which heretofore made the representatives of the people and States the terror of evildoers."

In drafting the new revenue bill we hope there will be no attempt to cling to the superstitious and superflous hope that "war profits" can be made to pay for the war. It is not possible to make one hand wash the other financially in this way. Nor will it be possible to have the banks and big fiscal institutions underwrite the cost of the war. The war will have to be paid for as it will have to be fought, by the country at large, by everyone subjecting himself to taxation and to other contributions to the utmost.

The treaty of alliance which Germany has exacted from Kaiser Karl sets the nominal term of fifteen years for its duration. But in reality the pact is in perpetuity. After fifteen year of subjection to Berlin influence such as this agreement demands, Austria will be in no condition to resist the further extension of her enslavement. It may be—and probably will be—a greatly diminished Austria which will be found fifteen years hence; becaue it is inconceivable that the final terms of peace will leave the Hapsburgs rulers over any portion of Poland or of South Slavdom or perhaps even over Hungary. In such case, Vienna will be still the more powerless to resist. Austria's fate seems fixed, whatever else may be the outcome of the war.

and place of meeting has been definitely arranged.

If the campaign is to be a success everybody must cooperate.

To increase the production of coal in Central Pennsylvania is a task worthy of the best effort of every miner and operator. The greatness of the task assigned to the mining industry is expressed by Mr. Morrow, when he says: "To give you some measure of the responsibility that rests today on the coal producers of the United States, let me say that you are called upon to produce more coal this year than all the mines of all the rest of the world combined."

In the year 1917 the total production of bituminous coal in the United States was approximately 551,000,000 tons, which was the record year. Most careful estimates have been made, based upon accurate records of consumption for the year 1917, and by adding to these figures the estimated additional requirements for the year 1918, it is determined that the minimum requirements would be 635,000,000 tons, but changes in the war program have been so rapid that safety requires no estimate below 650,000,000 tons.

Mr. Calloway says: "There is every possible reason to hope that our production this year will be 590,000,000 tons." Central Pennsylvania must do her share. Every miner and operator must do a little more than he has been doing and instead of producing 1,000,000 tons per week in this region, we should produce 1,500,000 tons.

President Wilson, in his address said: "To the miner let me say that he stands where the farmer does: The work of the world waits on him. If he slackens or fails armies and statesmen are helpless. He also is enlisted in the great service army."

The foregoing easily demonstrates the necessity for us doing everything in our power to produce more coal. The Executive Committee of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association, at their meeting held in Philadelphia on May 28th, instructed the officers of the Association to formulate a plan of action that would increase, and maintain the maximum production of coal in Central Pennsylvania. After careful consideration, the officers of the Association hereby submit to the operators a plan which they believe should be uniformly adopted throughout the district.

First, a series of mass meetings should be held during the two weeks beginning June 17th, ending Saturday June 29th, to explain to the miners and their families and all persons connected with the mining industry, the imperative necessity for a greater production of coal. The Committee to arrange this meeting in each town is hereby designated to be the mine Superintendent, or Superintendents, and officers of the local union of the United Mine Workers of America. Speakers shall be assigned to different meetings upon request to the District Speaker's Bureau.

This Committee shall secure the services of speakers and assign them to the different meetings upon request from the local committee.

Second, following the mass meetings the men employed at each colliery shall select a committee from among their number whose duty it shall be to investigate all cases of inefficiency or idleness and take recommendations to the operators or miners, as to means and methods that should be employed to increase production and to formulate such rules at each colliery that in their judgment are best suited for this purpose.

Third, all persons interested should assist the colliery committee in having every man sign the following pledge:

I pledge allegiance to my Flag, and to the Republic for which it stands. One nation indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all, and I do sincerely believe in the proposition that coal will win the war, and therefore promise to do everything in my power to improve and increase the production of coal by every means at my command, doing so in firm belief that in this way I will contribute to the success of my country in her struggle with the Imperial Government of Germany.

Every man who signs this pledge card should receive and wear on his working coat sleeve the National Service emblem we have adopted (this emblem to be a blue background with upraised arm and hammer in white to be sewed on the sleeve). Each colliery upon getting 100 per cent. of the employes pledged shall be entitled to a national service flag of the same design as the emblem worn by the members, to fly at the colliery [illegible] emblems and flags to be furnished by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association.

WHAT OUR BOYS READ IN THEIR PAPER "THE STARS AND STRIPES"

ON BEING A BUCK

We quote the following from a "Doughboys Dictionary" as published in Judge, of New York:

"Buck Private—The poor devil who does all the work and gets the least pay."

Oh, dear! Judge, like so many of our well-meaning contemporaries back home, has got it all wrong.

"The poor devil!" Say not so. The buck private is the luckiest guy in the army—the luckiest and the happiest. Everything is done for him, everything planned out for him, everything issuable is issued to him when it can be got every higher officer exists but to serve him and make his path easier and to take the worry and the fret and the planning off his shoulders. In fact, the army takes everything off his shoulders but his pack and his gun.

"Who does all the work!" Wrong again; the buck goes to bed at taps, and—unless he is on guard or K. P.—has nothing on his mind but his hair until reveille. The Loots, and the Skippers, and the Oakleaves and the Eagles and the Stars know no taps. Their name is certainly NOT Eva-I-don't care.

"And gets the least pay!" Yes, but what pay the buck does get, after all the deductions are made, is his. He isn't taxed $300 or so for a new equipment when the joins; he doesn't have to buy a blooming Sam Browne belt or spurs or boots or insignia.

No, Sister Judge yur'e wrong. The buck is the best off of the whole lot. He's got the only sure and steady job in the whole Army. He's the only man who can't be busted.

ODE TO A BATH TUB

In days gone by in civil life
We all were bright and gay,
And all of us could get a bath
At any time of day.

But now we're in the trenches
And the weather's pretty cold,
And water for a real good wash
Is worth it's weight in gold

Not only are we dirty
And don't undress at night,
But we get our flesh to bleeding
When we scratch where cootics bite.

If we find a spot that's sunny
In this and of rainy France,
The first things that we boys remove
Are blouses, shirts and pants.

And when the other things are off
We rub ourselves with soap,
And put the first things on again,
And hope and hope and hope.

We hope we wont' be chilly,
That the itch will stop as well,
And that the Kaiser and his gang
Will all be shot to hell.

For we want this war to finish
So we'll have the aftermath,
Of spending Sunday mornings
In a good old U. S. bath.

P. G. Whittier

Little Goody New-Shoes will soon be shot into your company from the replacement division. Little Goody New-Shoes are quite some shoes, too. They're guaranteed, as far as shoes which have to stand what shoes do stand over here can be guaranteed, not to do what the Giants once did—crack under the strain.

They're going to have three soles, which, it is expected, will give them a good nine lives. But—and here is the essential difference—the ground floor and second floor soles are going to be nailed together, not sewn. It has been proved beyond a doubt this past winter—you, of course, have helped a lot in the proving—that thread rots in water and mud and slush and everything, causing the soles which are joined by it to be as wobbly and separatable as Bolsheviks. Therefore, no more thread for those two necessary foundation soles. They will be united by nails.

Leaves in the A. E. F. have been suspended indefinitely. The reason is, of course, the "present emergency," the term by which the war is known in official American state papers, but in this case narrowed down to apply to the German onslaught in the north.

There will be no exceptions to the order, according to an authoritative statement. Officers and men fare alike. Men now on leave, however, will not be compelled to return to their units until their permission period is up.

Five to two, or six to two—perhaps even nine to two, according to how you count, is the score registered in less than a month by American flyers against the German airmen in the Lorraine country.

The more recent of our two losses in the one month's record is the loss of Captain James Norman Hall, who has been missing since last Monday evening, when he and two other American flyers encountered four German machines in the clouds some ten miles within the enemy's lines.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's Day was observed Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church and took the place of the regular morning church service.

The entire Sabbath school marched into the church while Miss Alice Smith at the organ and Miss Mar-Maret Wrigey at the piano payed "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The exercises were in charge of the Primary department and the little tots sang their songs and recited their recitations in a most pleasing and appraising manner. The larger girls and boys carried out their flag drills in a creditable way.

A number of babies and children received the rites of baptism. All the children of seven years of age who had been baptized in the church were presented with handsome bibles as is the usual custom.

The church was beautifully decorated with spruce, laurel, peonies and American flags.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisons before [illegible] is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ash, so the food and drink taken each day [illegible] in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated from toxins and poisons which are [illegible] taken into the blood through the very pores which are intended to absorb it only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy blood in your cheeks, your skin will become clearer and clearer you are told to drink every morning, [illegible] a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, [illegible] and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before [illegible] into the blood.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs.

We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for [illegible]

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at hoe though is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightfully dark, glossy soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

do you continue to risk your all without adequate fire protection when we will gladly explain any feature that you may not understand?

Mr. Aurand and wife, of DuBois, spent Sunday in Curwensville calling on old time friends and some relatives.

Mr. Fye, father of Dewy Fye, who is over in France fighting the Hun in the trenches, was notified the latter part of last week by letter, that his son had a finger shot away while on duty.

Bert Ammerman and family and Mrs. Sarah Ammerman, took a car ride to Templeton, Armstrong county, Sunday for a brief visit with a brother and son, "Peck" Ammerman and wife.

Lew Lewis received a letter the other day notifying him of the death of a cousin, David Johns, who was killed in action while fighting with the ritish army in Palestine, his death occuring November 6th.

Next Thursday evening the K. of P. lodge here will confer the Knights degree on several candidates, beness which will be of vast imporsides transacting a lot of other bustance to the members of this society.

Creighton Clark, who has been absent from Curwensville for several years, arrived in town Saturday. He expects to reside here permanently now, and contemplates opening several smal coal mines owned by him and located within half a mile of town.

A patriotic and memorial service, under the auspices of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges, will be held on Tuesday evening, June 11th. All adults are cordially invited to be present. A fine program has been prepared and will be presented and good speakers will be present to address the people.

According to new bills posted some changes has been made relative to the entertainment to be given by the senior class. Fifty dollars of the profits from the sale of tickets will be donated to the Red Cross. The admission price has been changed from 75 to 50 cents for reserved seats, while the general admission has reduced to 35 cents.

Last week one evening the Loyal Moose lodge of this place initiated a class of over fifty candidates. The membership of this organization now numbers something over four hundred. The order owns its own home, holds a nmuber of liberty bonds, and always keeps a nice sum in the treasury to meet all claims for benefits or any other emergency which may arise.

Word was received here yesterday announcing the death in Philadelphia of a two years old child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walters, former residents in this section. The body will be brought to Curwensville and buried in Oak Hill cemetery. The funeral will probably be held on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Saturday and Saturday evening was a busy time in Curwensville. Pay day at a half dozen different industries distributed about $60,000 among the men, who in turn paid out a large portion of what they received to the merchant, druggist, doctor, etc. thereby making everybody happy by being the recipient of a portion of something which is needful in "keeping the flour barrel full."

William Hallman, aged 54 years, was instantly killed in the nard clay mineof the Harbison-Walker company, located in Bloom township, last Friday afternoon. According to report he was about to shoot a hole and had cut a stick of dynamite into two pieces, capping and lighting the fuse of both. He stuck one piece under his left arm pit while he placed the other piece in a hole. By some means the piece under his arm exploded killing him instantly. His remains were brought to the Smith undertak- [illegible] where the body was prepared for burial. He is survived by a wife and several children, one son being in the army and now in France. His funeral was held Sunday afternoon. Interment in Chestnut grove cemetery.

Saturday two men hailing from Lock Haven met with an auto accident at the railroad crossing down on the state road which landed one in the hospital, while the other man was cut and severely bruised all over the body. Something went wrong with the steering machinery and caused the auto to dash into a post. The machine was retty badly wrecked.

A big birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Len Neeper, about one mile above town, last Friday evening the occasion being the celebrating of the 21st birthday of their son, Oscar. About seventy guests were present who spent the evening in enjoyments and before departing for their homes partook of a feast of which all did ample justice.

Mrs. Tenon and child were hit by an automobile at the corner of Walnut and State streets Saturday afternoon. The lady was knocked down and had her dress bodly torn and one foot and limb severly bruised. The child was also slightly injured. It seems as though the lady and child were about to cross the return when the auto came up the street and wanted to go up the return. The driver seeing the danger to the woman and child shifted his machine to keep from striking them and ran up on the sidewalk. The people mistaking the driver's intention jumped backward just far enough for the car to strike the two knocking them down. From what can be gleaned from eye witnesses no blame can be attached to the driver as he did his best to avoid any accident, but agreed to pay the doctor bill and other expenses incurred by the accident.

The tailoring establishent of Vincent Di Palmi will be closed until Wednesday morning an occount of the death of Mrs. DiPalmi's mother at Frenchville, Pa.

FIRST AMERICAN TO BRING DOWN GERMAN PLANE

This photograph shows Lieutenant Allan J. Winslow of Chicago standing beside the airplnae in which he brought down the first German plane credited to an American flyer. Uncle Sam's planes bear as their insignia a hat within a ring as shown on the body of the plane.

TOBACCO RATIONS WILL CHEER HEARTS OF OUR MEN IN FRANCE

Paris, May 31.—The American soldier has received no more welcome news since his arrival in France than the recent announcement that henceforth the War Department will issue tobacco rations. The scarcity of tobacco, particularly the kind to which he has been accustomed, has been a real hardship for the American soldier ever since he arrived on this side, and of late the situation has become so critical as to demand attention from the highest authorities.

An American soldier arriving from the fornt, mud-spattered, and swaying with his impediments, was waylaid on a narrow street one night recently by a dozen American soldiers, stationed in Paris. It was a terribly unfair attack, for, although the newcomer carried a rifle and a bayonet, and his assailants had only their strong two fists, they rushed him so fast he could make no resistance.

Some French soldiers coming up the street heard the noise of battle and ran to the rescue. But instead of helping the unfortunate man, they joined the enemy raiders.

The soldier on leave, not being able to get even his hands free and surrounded, finally found his voice.

"Say, what the devil do you fellows want?" he bellowed.

"Smokes — cigs — tobacco — seegarett!" The last from the Frenchmen.

"Buy—but—but——"

"Well, you're coming from the front ain't ye? And that's the only place in France they've got any left!" the raiders exclaimed.

"What? Cigarette at the front? They're kidding you," the newcomer replied. "Why all we've got is this Boche stuff!"

And he rummaged himself, pulled out a tin box, and opened it.

In a second the twenty cigarettes it contained were gone, and so was the mob. With evident relief, the soldier threw his tin box on the sidewalk with a hearty bang, and kept on his way to the Y. M. C. A. hotel, where hot water and linen awaited him.

The tin box which he had thrown away so contemptuously has a story—two stories in fact. On it was inscribed the brand of Turkish tobacco, and the fact that it was made by the Government in Sarajevo, Bosnia, the Austro-Hungarian town where Prinzip fired the shot which killed Francis Joseph's heir, and gave Germany an excuse for war. Boche tobacco it was, truly, as the soldier had said. The first story concerns a big raid which the French made on the Salonika fornt, and which gave them guns, prisoners, and stores. In the latter were several million cigarettes. These the French Government gave to its troops when the regular supply was exhausted.

The second story concerns the shortage in tobacco for the American army, a shortage so acute that General Pershing's quartermasters had to ask the French for help, and part of this help consisted of the Boche tobacco. But this lasted only a few days, and as all France is short of cigarettes, matches, papers and tobacco— everything but the habit, in fact —the situation was anything but promising until the War Department at Washington announced measures for relief.

Of the many thousands [illegible] shops in Paris, all but one or two show a sign announcing they have no cigarettes for sale. The two exceptions get a few British cartons every day, and about once a week they offer a little French tobacco. Every day there is a long line-up in front of these shops, regulated by the police, and men and women wait an hour to get an ounce of tobacco or twenty cigarettes.

Despite the generous gifts of thousands of Americans at home, the efforts of associations, newspapers, and the quartermaster's department of the army, the American boys in France have really suffered because they could not get tobacco. The blame cannot be laid on any individual or organization, but rather on all the unusual conditions caused by the long war.

PENNSYLVANIA WOMAN PATRIOTIC

Lancaster, Pa., June 10.—"Either join the Marines or leave home!" This was the ultimatum issued to Frank A. Laudenberger, a silk weaver, of Marietta, Pa., by his patriotic wife.

When Laudenberger appeared before Sergeant Jim Gandee of the local recruiting station recently he was told that he would have to obtain his wife's consent before he could be accepted.

"Consent?" he asked laughingly. "Why she told me that any man who called himself a man would be fighting for his country and that I would have to enlist in the Marines or leave home. Guess that's enough consent, isn't it?"

Laudenberger was accepted immediately and his spartan wife was on hand at the depot to see that he surely got on his way to help make the world "safe for democracy".

OBITUARY

MRS. KATE ROUGEUX

Mrs. Kate Rougeux, wife of August Rougeaux, one of Covington township's best known citizens, died at the family home in "Germany," about two miles from Frenchville, on Saturday evening, June 8, 1918, aged about 6[illegible] years.

The deceased had been a sufferer from heart trouble for several years and was in a precarious condition during a major portion of the past few months.

Mrs. Rougeux was the daughter of the late Serdon N. and Nancy Coudriet and lived her entier life in the community where she passed away. She was married to August Rougeux in 1811 and to this union was born thirteen children all of whom with her husband, survive.

Mrs. Rougeux was the ideal loving wife and mother, whose every thought was for her home and loved ones, and her death, the first break in the large family circle, is a heart-crushing blow. She was a life-long, devoted member of the Catholic church and passed away fortified with all the rites of that church.

The immediate family surviving her are her husband, August Rougeux and the following sons and daughters: Basil and Edgar of Covington township; Clement, of Boardman Peter, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Lawrence N. and Maurice, of the U. S. Army; Mrs. Edward P. Shade and Mrs. John Daley, of Clearfield; Mrs. C. A. Fontenoy, of Karthaus; Mrs. Vincent Di Palmi, of Curwensville Misses Nannie and Sadie, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Lulu, at home. She is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Lewis V., of Clearfield; Peter, of LeContes Mills Mrs. Joachim Lachat and Mrs. Jul Bamat, of Frenchville; Mrs. John H Rougeux of Girard township, and Mrs. J. D. Connelly, of Clearfield.

Her funeral will be held at the Frenchville Catholic church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. A requiem high mass will be celebrated by Rev. Father M. J. Renehan. Interment in the cemetery connected with the church.

PINEAPPLE PRESERVES

Twelve large, ripe pineapples will make about thirty half-pint glasses of preserves. Remove the eyes, then pare the pineapples carefully and by means of a coarse grater, shred the fruit, saving the juice.

Take two large cupfuls of the grated pineapple and one scant cupful of water. To this add two-and-a-half cupfuls of sugar.

Turn into a preserving kettle and place it over the fire. Remove the scum frequently from it while boiling. Boil until it looks clear and thickens when a little istested on a cool saucer.

When done, pour it into a basin and allow it to cool. Divide into sterilized glasses and seal with melted Parowax.

PRETTY MOTOR DRIVER TRAINING FOR WAR

HOW AUTOMOBILE MAY BE LEARNED

Initial Lesson in Handling Machine Should Be How to Stop Quickly.

STARTING NOT SO IMPORTANT

Make Numerous Attempts to Bring Car to Standstill Until Confidence Is Gained—Measure Distance Accurately.

Running an automobile through traffic is like swimming in deep water. Don't do it until you are so sure of yourself that all danger of panic has gone by. And always expect the unexpected. Leave your family or friends at home on those first few rides.

Initial Lesson.

As your initial lesson, after you have learned the names, and above all the potentialities of the various levers, learn how to stop. Of course, as a preliminary, you must start, but that can be at your leisure. Make a dozen—or even a hundred attempts to bring the car to a standstill until you have gained confidence. Then adventure along some quiet, unobstructed road.

After you have received some instruction about the general mechanism of the car, practice stopping suddenly before reaching imaginary dangers along the road. Don't wait for this lesson until a child, a chicken, an absent-minded saunterer or some other irresponsible live thing sends your brand-new knowledge helter-skelter.

Measuring Distance.

Measuring distance accurately is the most important feature of driving. Draw two lines across the road fifty feet apart. Then, going at the rate of twenty miles an hour, apply the brake and see how long it takes you to stop the car. When you discover how much over the fifty-foot line your automobile goes, you realize the necessity for the driver's first rule—caution.

This trial also teaches you what speed is safe in approaching railroad crossings and intersecting streets, and how near you can go to traffic before applying your brake.—Popular Science Monthly.

TO FIX BATTERY CONNECTION

Stripped End of Wire Should Be Wound Around Binding Post in Clockwise Direction.

In making an ordinary connection to a battery terminal, the stripped end of the wire should be wound around the binding post in a clockwise direction. When the screw is tightened, it will be turned to the right and with the wire wound in the same direction, there is a tendency for it to wrap all the tighter around the post. When the wire is wrapped the other way around, it tends to unwrap when the screw is tightened.

Oil Brakes Sparingly.

It has been well said that there is one set of bearing surfaces on a car which should never be oiled—the brakes. This is not strictly true, as a squeaking brake must be oiled, but with caution. Use castor oil in moderation until the squeak is stopped.

NEW HEADLIGHT FOR AUTOS

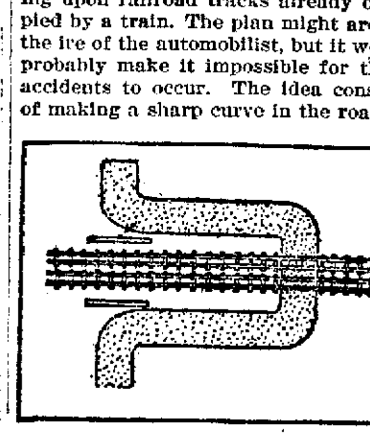

Connected With Front Axle and Always Points in Same Direction With Front Wheels.

The latest development in automobile lighting is a headlight which always points in the right direction. Every motorist has known the annoyance which arises in turning corners, when the front wheels are pointed in one direction and the headlights in another, and the country to left or right is lighted, while the road he wants to travel is dark. The new headlight is connected with the front axle in such a way that it turns with the front wheels instead of with the body of the car, and always points in the direction the wheels are pointed, which is, of course, the path that the car will travel.

SLOWING DOWN AT CROSSING

Unique Plan to Prevent Autoists Dashing Upon Tracks Already Occupied by Train.

Patent papers have been granted on a unique plan to prevent autoists dashing upon railroad tracks already occupied by a train. The plan might arouse the ire of the automobilist, but it would probably make it impossible for these accidents to occur. The idea consists of making a sharp curve in the road at a point just before the tracks would be reached under ordinary circumstances, so the chauffeur is compelled to slow up and make two turns before getting on the track. While performing this evolution it is thought that there would be ample opportunity for observing the approach of a train in either direction.

WATER AS CARBON REMOVER

Highly Recommended and Really Effective—Old Timer Describes Simple Method.

Water is a highly recommended and really effective carbon remover. It is the best, old-timers say. One man advises a simple method: "When your motor is running idle, speed it up until the air valve in the carburetor opens. Take a syringe, about the size of a hypodermic syringe, and inject water slowly into the carburetor. Do this four or five times, and you will see the carbon in huge chunks come out through the exhaust."

Spinning Wheels.

When the rear wheels are in a muddy spot, do not try to drive the car out by spinning them. The slower the wheels turn the better the chance of gripping the surface. If the car can be rocked by alternately engaging and disengaging the clutch it will be found that the pendulum action of the car will carry it out of almost any bad spot.

The time has just about come when all stocks of white wear at previous low costs have about been exhausted. So in that case, if new materials, new undermuslins or garments of any kind are to be made of cotton at present cost, the price in the future MUST be higher.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which [illegible] the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and [illegible] [illegible] food, the [illegible] sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary [illegible] come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which every one should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.
